Re:    United States v. Greg Cantoni
         Criminal Docket No. 18-562 (ENV)

Dear Judge Vitaliano:

The government respectfully writes to inform the Court about a recent latent print analysis conducted by the New York City Police Department's ("NYPD") Latent Print Section.

As the Court is aware, there was previously an unidentified latent fingerprint on the demand note recovered from Queens County Savings Bank, the location of the third charged bank robbery. At trial, witness testimony and surveillance footage established that bank teller Maryam Aamir accepted the third demand note from the robber with her bare hand and placed her left thumb on the note.

On April 30, 2019, the NYPD submitted the fingerprints of Maryam Aamir for comparison to the fingerprint recovered from the demand note. The next day, Detective Cynthia Ramirez compared Ms. Aamir's fingerprints against the unknown fingerprint and concluded that the unknown fingerprint came from Ms. Aamir's left thumb. Enclosed are the results of the comparison.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD P. DONOGHUE
United States Attorney
